Election/Restrictions

Claim 9-18,20-24,26-44 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention/species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 10. Applicant argues that [t]he subgroups of claims are not directed to different (as in alternative) embodiments but to different subcombinational However, the subcombinational features are deemed to be directed to features." patently distinct species, the determination of which is the providence of the examiner. It is noted that the so called subcombinational features in fact create distinct species by themselves include and excluding features which some groups contain and other groups do not contain thereby altering the identity of the invention. restriction is deemed final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-8,19 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, last line the phrase "such as ..." is indefinite; the phrase following "without" is deemed to be a negative limitation. Claim 3 fails to connect the clearing house to the rest of the claim. Claims 5, 6 19 and 25 is in improper form for plural elements.

Claim 9 needs to end in a period.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35

U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ramachandran et al.

Ramachandran et al. disclose a script supporter which registers with an electronic indenticator a biometric scrip (data store 70 inherently requires registration);

An electronic scrip transaction proposal step comprising a donor account (the financial transaction apparatus Figs 2-6); a transmittal step wherein a scrip supporter biometric sample is obtained and transmitted to a electronic indicator; (step 136); a scrip supporter i.d. step wherein the electronic identicator compares the biometric sample with the registered one and if successful, a scrip transaction is authorized (step 194).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ramachandran et al.

Use of a clearing house to collect scrip is old.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 8, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over EPO 0 598 469.

Whether the electronic identifier (program 10) approves a scrip or telephonic transaction is deemed to be a mere matter of application, Use of a clearing house to collect scrip is old.
